LOT 4681 - ONE-OF-A-KIND TALKING EARTH VASE BY STEVE SMITH

Description

A striking, one-of-a-kind Talking Earth vase of king-size proportions measuring almost 22 inches high x 9 inches across at its widest point, and weighing approximately 17lbs; as told to the current owner by Steve Smith himself, this was an experimental piece created in 1978 when he was young and working with his mother to help reestablish the Six Nations Pottery business; finished in the traditional brown glaze and with a turquoise interior; a detailed description of the various symbols is inscribed to the bottom of the vase

Provenance: this is the first of five major pieces of Talking Earth pottery made by Steve and Leigh Smith, from a prominent Ontario collection
