LOT 4731 - VERA NEUMANN SUNFLOWER PATTERN SERVING BOWLS

Description

Five 9in diameter serving bowls, could also be used for pasta; age-related discolouration noted

Vera Neumann was an American painter and entrepreneur best known for her boldly coloured artistry which she applied to linen patterns, textiles and colourful dinnerware; now viewed as classic MCM dinnerware, the "Sunflower" pattern dishes are a fine example of Jamaican Worcester that was produced throughout the 1960's and 70's; her designs once graced homes, wardrobes, and even the White House
